Who we serve:

- Mothers experiencing high risk pregnancy
- Families expecting or who have given birth to a child with a special healthcare need, disability, or other condition
- Families who have experienced pregnancy or infant loss
- Professionals who serve these families

Who we are:

- OFN is a statewide parent-to-parent support network for families raising children with special healthcare needs or disabilities from pre-natal to adulthood
- All of our staff are raising children with special healthcare needs or disabilities, have experienced perinatal services, or the loss of an infant or child with special needs

How we can help:

Provide Family Support By:

- Visiting parents in the hospital on bedrest in the perinatal clinic and following delivery
- Connecting families with similar experiences
- Providing information and resources specific to a child’s needs

Expand Family Centered Care By:

- Training clinics or hospital staff
- Encouraging family voice and building a leadership network
